Here comes the king

- Paul had been held by Felix for two years 24:22-27
  - Felix is replaced by Festus as Governor
- Festus hears Paul's defense 25:1-12
  - Festus offers to send Paul to Jerusalem
    - The Jews want to kill Paul along the way
  - Paul appeals to Caesar
- Agrippa arrives in Caesarea 25:13-27
  - Festus explains the situation to Agrippa
  - Agrippa wants to hear for himself
  - Festus presents Agrippa to the tribunal

I consider myself fortunate

- 1 Agrippa said to Paul, "You are permitted to speak for yourself." Then Paul stretched out his hand and proceeded to make his defense:
- This isn't a trial, and Paul is not giving a defense here
  - He uses this opportunity to declare the Gospel
- Paul appeals to Agrippa's Jewishness
  - "You are an expert in all customs and questions among the Jews"
  - Principle: know your audience
- Paul appeals to his Jewishness
  - "From the beginning [my life] was spent among my own nation and at Jerusalem"
  - "I lived as a Pharisee according to the strictest sect of our religion"

Hope in the promises

- 6 "And now I am standing trial for the hope of the promise made by God to our fathers;
- What is the hope to which Paul refers?
  - "And for this hope, O King, I am being accused by Jews"
- The message of the apostles is consistent throughout Acts
  - Jesus is the Messiah, who must suffer
    - See 2:36, 3:26, 4:11-12, 5:31, 7:52, 13:38-39, 22:14-15
  - · God has resurrected him, in accordance with the Scriptures
    - See 2:30-32, 3:14-15, 4:10, 5:30, 13:34-35*
  - "Why is it considered incredible among you people if God does raise the dead?"
- 22 I stand to this day testifying both to small and great, stating nothing but what the Prophets and Moses said was going to take place

A light from heaven

- 12 "While so engaged as I was journeying to Damascus with the authority and commission of the chief priests"
- Paul was engaged in opposing the name of Jesus and persecuting his followers
- Paul recounts his conversion experience again
  - Similar to 22:1-21
  - He<sup>1</sup> appears to be consolidating the story
    - Here he indicates God told him his "mission" right there on the road
    - God had told him this through Ananias see 9:15-16 & 22:14-15
  - More details about his mission/purpose
    - To appoint you as servant and witness
    - Delivering you from your people and from the Gentiles
    - To open their eyes

<sup>1</sup>or Luke

I was not disobedient

- 12 "So, King Agrippa, I did not prove disobedient to the heavenly vision"
- Paul notes that he is simply following orders<sup>2</sup>
  - Or walking by faith
  - having obtained help from God, I stand
- Note the order in which he describes he journey
  - but kept declaring both to those of Damascus first, and also at Jerusalem and then throughout all the region of Judea, and even to the Gentiles
- What is Paul preaching?
  - They should repent and turn to God
  - Performing deeds appropriate to repentance<sup>3</sup>

<sup>3</sup>Faith without works is dead?

J.Doan (HHBC)

&lt;sup>2</sup>Is the double negative Luke's or Paul's?

In a short time

- 24 While Paul was saying this in his defense, Festus said in a loud voice, "Paul, you are out of your mind! Your great learning is driving you mad."
- Festus thinks Paul has gone mad
  - Evidence of 1 Corinthians?
- Paul addresses Agrippa directly
  - for this has not been done in a corner
    - The events to which Paul alludes were public
  - "King Agrippa, do you believe the Prophets? I know that you do."
  - His desire is that all become believers
- Is King Agrippa under conviction here?
  - "In a short time you will persuade me to become a Christian?"
- Final assessment
  - Agrippa acknowledges that Paul should be freed
  - The mechanism of the appeal to Caesar is already moving

Mad (in the) World

- Using the systems of the world to proclaim the Gospel
- Speaking with boldness, having confidence in the promises of God
- Speaking directly to people, establishing a report with them
- Knowing ultimately conviction is a work of the Holy Spirit
  - and people have to choose to listen to us
- Loving our neighbors, understanding what is the best for them
